

DECIDE Tool Card #2

Why?

Easy and fun way to gain a better understanding of individual's opinion on energy community or collective action

What?

The game helps in exploring the elements that are considered as most relevant for individuals when thinking about their ideal energy collective action. The participants can chose among a set of items and place them in the target at the centre of the screen. The closer to the centre, the most relevant that specific element is to the respondent.
